USING YOUR TREADLING ORDER KEEPER (TOK)

This handy device has proven a timesaver for both table and floor loom users alike.

The keeper comes with a wooden extension that can be C-clamped (not included) onto your loom in a convenient location. It can be positioned either with the extension on the bottom, like it is pictured below left; or inverted, like it is pictured below right, if this puts the keeper in a better position for you.

After some use, when you have determined the best location for your usage, you can drill a hole in the extension and bolt it to your loom.

Write your lift plan on the included pages, or use your own paper, spacing each lift 1/2" to line up with the holes in the TOK.

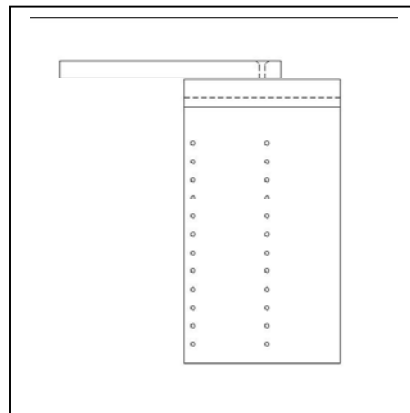

Tape or rubber cement the list to the TOK, lining up the lifts with the holes in the TOK.

Move the stainless steel pin after each pic to keep track of where you are.

Happy weaving!
